

GOALS LINKED TO MY VALUES

Therapy discussion - progress and next steps

LOVE

My values: Close, caring and trustworthy relationships. Support my family without abandoning myself.

Short term: Send Marley Bear his birthday card and make time for one proper conversation with someone close.

Medium term: Have one phone-free catch-up or shared activity each week for 4 weeks.

Long term: Plan one meaningful family or friendship activity each month while protecting my own rest and time.

WORK

My values: Be useful and reliable without letting work take over my evenings, weekends, sleep or peace.

Short term: Keep work apps locked after 6pm on weekdays and locked all weekend.

Medium term: Keep the boundary for 4 weeks and notice the effect on switching off and sleep.

Long term: Make evenings and weekends work-free as normal, except for a genuine emergency.

PLAY

My values: Freedom, enjoyment and doing things that make me feel like myself again.

Short term: Read one chapter of The Secret of Secrets each day. If it feels too much, read for 10 minutes instead of doing nothing.

Medium term: Read at least 5 days a week for 4 weeks, using the audiobook after reading when it helps.

Long term: Finish the book and keep one regular weekly block for reading, gardening, the allotment or gliding.

HEALTH

My values: Look after my physical and mental health with patience and self-respect, without health fear taking over.

Short term: When I notice avoidance, name it and do 10 minutes rather than wait to feel ready.

Medium term: Use short chunks for therapy reading, admin and mentally noisy tasks for 4 weeks.

Long term: Make the small-step approach my normal response to difficult tasks.

PROGRESS I MADE LAST WEEK

- Read chapters 1 to 4 on four consecutive days. Reading, then listening, helps my concentration.
- Reinstated the 6pm weekday and full weekend work-app lock. I noticed repeated urges to check, but the boundary held.
- Completed the Raylo SKU setup after putting it off.
- Visited the allotment after building it up in my head, then returned for about an hour and cleared section one. Two sections remain.
- Sorted the indoor and outdoor plants and tidied the bedroom enough to make it usable.

WHAT I NOTICED

- Avoidance often looks like delay, needing the perfect setup, or doing only part of the task.
- What works is naming it and taking the smallest useful action.
- I want goals to stay meaningful and small enough to keep doing, not become another pressure.
